COVID-19 Vaccine Introduction Rapid Audience Assessment Tool

Purpose of the Tool: The purpose of this tool is to gather information and insights to inform the development of demand creation and advocacy strategies for the introduction of COVID-19 vaccines. The tool focuses on collecting audience insights related to knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, norms, information needs, communication channels, and intentions related to COVID-19 vaccines.

The tool includes tailored assessments for four priority audiences:

- Health care workers
- Key influencers (i.e. religious leaders, community leaders, elders, etc.)
- General population
- Media professionals

The tool supports the implementation of the Define and Understand step of the FHI 360 Demand Creation and Advocacy for COVID-19 Vaccine Acceptance and Uptake: An Interim Quick Start Guide.

Intended Users: The tool is intended to be used by FHI 360 programs and their partners to support governments to design and implement demand creation and advocacy strategies and activities as part of national COVID-19 vaccine introduction efforts.

How to Use this Tool: The audience assessments in this tool are designed to guide facilitated discussions with priority audiences. The assessments should be conducted one-on-one by an interviewer, either in-person or over the phone or in small groups as the situation allows.

Sampling: Programs should use convenience sampling to rapidly gather information and insights from the four priority audiences. Programs should consider gathering information from a variety of different context (i.e. urban, rural, peri-urban) in multiple locations in the country. Assessments should be conducted equally between men and women in each target audience. For the general population, programs should ensure representation of individuals from different socio-economic groups, education levels, ages, religions, as well as individuals with disabilities.

COVID-19 Considerations: Due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, FHI 360 programs and their partners should take steps to protect the safety and wellbeing of their staff and participants while conducting the assessment. If programs or their partners chose to conduct interviews in-person, the following preventative measures should be taken:

- Adhere to all current guidance from the MOH, including any restrictions on group gatherings, movement, etc.
- Wear a face mask at all times (both interviewers and participants)
- Maintain at least 6 feet/2 meters of distance between interviewers and participants at all times
- Conduct interviews outside or in well ventilated spaces, if possible
- Wash hands or use hand sanitizer before and after interviews
- No hand shakes
• If the interviewer or the participant shows signs of illness (such as coughing, fever, etc.), the interview should be stopped immediately.

Ethical Considerations: While administering this tool it is highly likely that questions about the COVID-19 vaccines will be raised by participants. Programs need to ensure appropriate fielding of these questions to ensure participants receive accurate and correct answers to their questions. All interviewers should be equipped with factual information about COVID-19 and the COVID-19 vaccine. Interviewers should direct participants to a national COVID-19 information source (e.g. website, call center) to ensure they have access to a reliable source for future questions and information needs.
Hi, my name is ________; and I am part of a team that is helping the Ministry of Health plan for the introduction of the COVID-19 vaccine in [insert name of country]. We are supporting the Ministry to develop a demand creation and advocacy strategy for the COVID-19 vaccine. To help design this strategy, we are conducting consultations with health care workers who will be involved in the rollout of the vaccine, as well as receive the vaccine themselves. I have several questions to better understand your experience and gain your insights to inform the way we create demand and promote the vaccine, as well as support health care workers to promote the COVID-19 vaccine with their patients.

Participation in this consultation is voluntary. We will not write down your name or any other personal information that may identify you. All information you provide will be kept confidential and not shared with your supervisor or employer. We will use the findings from this consultation only for the purposes stated above.

Please feel free to ask me to explain anything you do not understand at any time. If you feel uncomfortable answering any questions, you can refuse to answer those questions and can end the interview at any time.
