

Partnerships for Business Resilience and Recovery in Southeast Asia PBRR

The COVID-19 pandemic is an immediate humanitarian crisis with long-term economic impacts

380M cases, 5.7M deaths

Threatening livelihoods

Intensifying poverty

Supply chain disruption

Labor shortages and layoffs

Businesses Closure

With support from the Office of Global Partnerships at the U.S. Department of State, FHI 360 and AWR Lloyd launched PBRR to foster a more resilient private sector across Southeast Asia.

We equip businesses with the tools to:

- Safely resume, adapt and accelerate operations
- Balance financial stability and workforce safety.
- Build resilience to the current pandemic and future crises
- Share insights, best practices, and innovations from the private sector
