

2017 ANNUAL REPORT

CATALYZE

FHI360.ORG/ANNUAL-REPORT-2017

When a catalyst is added, something special happens.

In science, a catalyst ignites a chemical reaction. When applied to human development, a catalyst is the spark that transforms an idea into a solution.

In this year's annual report, we share some of the many ways FHI 360 is working with partners to catalyze positive change in the United States and around the world.

I invite you to explore the full report to discover in depth how we are overcoming challenges and charting new paths that accelerate results and expand opportunities.

Research and evidence

- Demonstrated that a long-acting, injectable antiretroviral could provide an easier, more practical alternative to a daily oral dose for global HIV prevention.
- Supported the Government of Tanzania and its partners to scale up nutrition programming and develop an evidence-based, multisectoral nutrition action plan.

Education, employment and engagement

- Strengthened the capacity of entrepreneurs in Jordan to grow their small, home-based businesses into formal, revenue-generating enterprises.
- Established Afghanistan's first bachelor degree program in food technology at the Herat University Faculty of Agriculture, helping to build a more qualified, professional workforce.
- Helped to build civil society and media capacity in Myanmar in support of the country's democratic transition.

Health access and services

- Expanded detection of tuberculosis in Mozambique using CB-DOTS — from 12 percent to 36 percent in four provinces that account for 49 percent of the national TB burden, between 2015 and 2017.
- Empowered women and men to plan their families by increasing access to high-quality, affordable hormonal contraceptive implants. Levoplant was prequalified in 2017 by the World Health Organization.

Technology and innovation

- Provided customized support and tools to generate data and research to improve education and career readiness in the United States.
- Transformed the way school and health workers are paid in Liberia. In 2017, more than 3,000 school staff and 800 health care workers were paid via mobile money.
- Enabled real-time data collection to more effectively monitor early-grade reading programs in Ghana. Tablets allow data to be entered with or without an internet connection.
